The same as for previous contests, with the following slight changes, viz:

April 6, 1932

1- Both the Declamatory and the Short-Story Writing Contests shall be open to bona-fide pupils of either the seventh or the eighth grade only. Entrants must have been enrolled in the schools they represent since not later than the first day of school of the second semester.

2- There will be but one entrant and one substitute for each contest, no entrant being allowed to participate in both contests.

3- Participants in any of the three previous contests shall not be allowed to take part in this year's contests.

4- Judges shall be appointed by the Director General of Elementary Urban Schools. Two names shall be suggested by each superintendent of schools not later than May 1.

5- The superintendent of schools at districts where the sectional and insular contests are held may include any other numbers in their respective contest programs which they feel will add interest to the occasion.

6- The same process of selecting participants is recommended as for previous contests, namely, room and town try-outs.

7- Entries shall be sent in in duplicate directly to the Department of Education, showing the name of the entrant, the grade in which he is enrolled, the date of his enrollment, the school and the town.
